

BEYOND: CENTER FOR FUNDAMENTAL CONCEPTS IN SCIENCE

presents

The 2009 Annual Eugene Shoemaker
Memorial Lecture

“Our Catastrophic Solar System: Impacts and the Latest Revolution in Earth Science”

A lecture by

Jay Melosh

Regents Professor of Planetary Science
University of Arizona
Lunar and Planetary Lab

March 4, 2009

7:30 P.M.

Armstrong Hall, Great Hall
ASU Tempe campus

Each year BEYOND presents an award to a leading scientist in honor of the life and work of Eugene Shoemaker who, together with his wife Carolyn Shoemaker, pioneered research in the field of asteroid and comet impacts.

Image Credit: NASA, NAOJ, NSF, T. Rector (University of Alaska Anchorage), Z. Levay and L. Frattare (Space Telescope Science Institute)

ASU COLLEGE of LIBERAL ARTS
& SCIENCES
ARIZONA STATE UNIVERSITY

This event is free, open to the public, and first come, first serve. This event is not ticketed. Visit <http://beyond.asu.edu> or call (480) 965-3240.

C.A.R.T. services will be available.